MINECRAFT RALLY TO EDUCATE

NJTL Trenton is utilizing Minecraft Education to design a whole new world. By combining Zoom with Minecraft Ed., students are challenged to complete tasks collaboratively. While immersed in a digital environment, students explore and construct solutions that require strong social connections. They may be asked to build a room, a home, or a school that supports and enriches the lives of the society and fosters a sense of belonging. The tasks are rich, varied and generate a social experience combined with meaningful interaction. Every task demands problem-solving and communication. Students need more than tech skills. Social-emotional skills are implemented as tools to build solutions and create new opportunities. This game-based learning keeps our students engaged while fostering confidence, self-awareness and leadership.
